1

One-to-Many

"One-to-Many" streaming enables many individual users to watch a stream. This solution is ideal in the business field, for example for working from home. We provide an event website that lets users ask questions, view the agenda or provide extra information in addition to watching the stream.

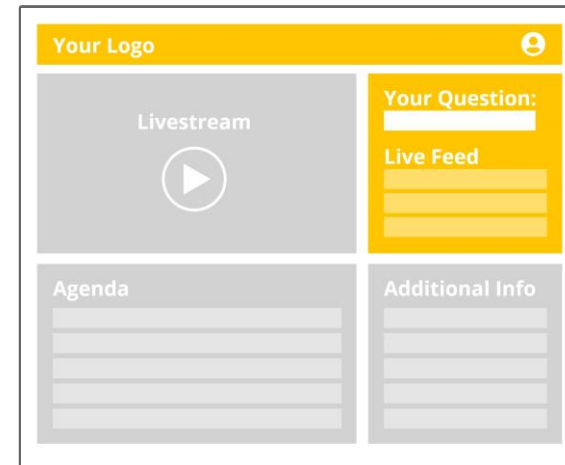

RSI

RSI (Remote Simultaneous Interpreting) from N&M provides multilingual capability for digital live communication: sustainable, high quality, economic and reliable.

The client's expert simultaneous interpreters or qualified interpreters from a professional association interpret at our RSI hub. We use digital transmission to bring the interpreted signal to your live event.

c2i

come2interact allows participants to ask questions directly online via our web interface so they can interact with the event.

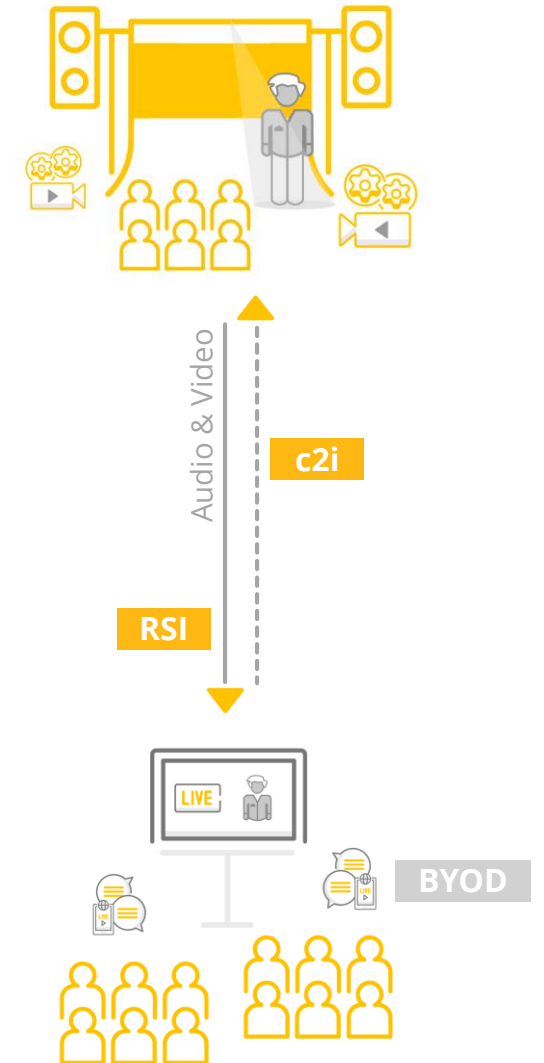

2

Remote-Meeting

With its 2nd option N&M provides a solution ideal for meetings with several participants in a second location, e.g. in a conference room. In addition to audio and visual streaming participants can also communicate bidirectionally.

BYOD (Bring Your Own Device)

Participants can contribute through their own devices (smartphone, tablet) in combination with our come2interact in-house solution and the integrated "Online-Voting", "Online Feedback" and "Online Brainstorming" apps.

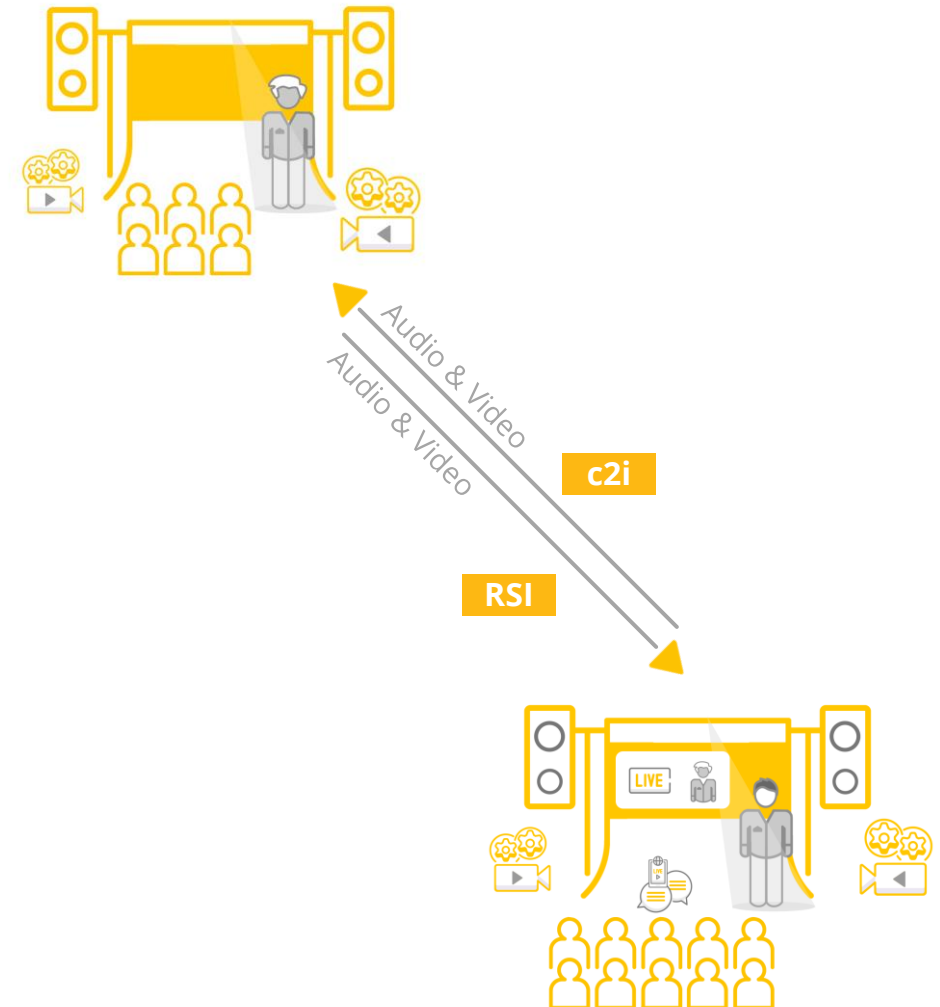

3

Event-to-Event

Simultaneous bidirectional audio, video and data communication possible between multiple events. Ideal for parallel events at different locations.

We link up your parallel events and allow you to interact – just as if it were one big event.
