Open-air Concert on Tower Block Roofs: “Himmel über Prohlis”, Dresden

- Open air of 16 alphorns, 9 trumpets, 4 tubas and dagu drums from 5 different high-rise buildings in the Prohlis district of Dresden
- Distance of up to 450 meters between buildings
- joint conception of a click track as a metronome for the delayed use of instruments at great distances (individual headphone mix for each musician)
- logistically difficult task, as the event space was very large and the time limited (delivery at 7.30 a.m.; concert start at 5 p.m.)
